Roots brings the transformative power of music to our communities through education and performance by local and national performing artists. We use live music – rooted in early blues, jazz, folk, gospel and rock – to educate, inspire and comfort people in settings where music performance is limited or non-existent.

During our most recent fiscal year we served a total of 10,385 students and adults. Our music education programs Blues is the Backbone and Stop the Hate Youth Sing Out served 1,890 students in 92 classes. Our music enrichment and engagement programs for adults with physical and developmental disabilities, and senior citizens was presented in 29 locations, 376 performances, serving 3,215 individuals. Our live music performances were presented to 8,495 children and adults.

Jason White is a Cleveland native and award winning singer-songwriter whose songs have been recorded by artists including Tim McGraw, Carrie Underwood and Old Crow Medicine Show. Now residing in Connecticut with his wife and three children, Jason continues to support Northeast Ohio through his engagement with Roots of American Music.
